MEETING OF PALMETTO CLUB.

A Large Number of People Attend The Delightful Musicale Given by This Popular Club.

The regular meeting of the Palmetto Club was held in the Opera House yesterday afternoon. The room was made to look very cozy and comfortable with rugs on the floor and the club furniture.

It was musical day, and to lovers of music was indeed an afternoon long to be remembered. The program opened with a quartette "Crossing the Bar," by Mrs. Moore, Miss Hallock, Mrs. Huston and Mrs. E. C. Atwood, which received a hearty applause. Next, a solo, "The Vagabond," sung by Prof. Blount received such a vociferous applause that he responded by singing "La Serenade." Mrs. E. M. Moore's solo, "Three Wishes," was sung in her most charming manner and was loudly enclored, to which she graciously responded by singing "The Carnival" in a most bewitching way. A violin solo, Raff's Cavatina, by Mr. G. B. Colgan, accompanied on piano by Miss McFarlane, who also was encliored and gave in response "The Cradle Song," by Hauser, both selections being well rendered and showed great talent. A chorus by part of the Choral Society was the next number after an intermission of five minutes. Mr. Colgan, accompanied by Miss McFarlane, gave another violin solo, "Shakespearian Dance," which was listened to with rapt attention. A trio "A Water Lily," by Mrs. Moore, Huston and Atwood, was the next, followed by a solo, "Fac This," by Prof. Blount and for the encore, "The Heart Bowed Down," from the Bohemian Girl. The program closed with a solo, "Lydia," by Mrs. Moore and was a very pleasant ending to a most delightful afternoon.

There were about forty-five guests present, besides a full attendance of members. Miss Robinson was the pianist for the afternoon.

KINGSTON WILL INCORPORATE.

This Thriving Settlement Wants a School and Improved Streets and Sidewalks.

About thirty of the voters of Kingston met last night for the purpose of incorporating. Kingston has within its limits about seventy-five children who must attend school at either Daytona or Holly Hill. The primary children are not allowed to attend the Daytona school, only those in the ninth or higher grades being eligible. The younger children have quite a long walk through the woods to get to the Holly Hill school, to which many of the parents object.

Should the incorporation advocates win Kingston can have a school. The town would then be able to widen some of the streets, build sidewalks and compel the residents to keep their yards in better shape.

At the meeting last night R. H. Peaden was elected chairman and J. R. Cole secretary. The proposed boundary line is from the Halifax river on the east to the King's road on the west, and all territory between Daytona and Holly Hill. This morning several of the citizens of the latter place stated that they were willing for the south line of Holly Hill to be moved further north, to a point at the end of the improved Ridgewood avenue railway. This would give the proposed new town an area of about a square mile.

The names proposed for the town were Kingston and North Daytona, the former being decided upon after much debate. The election will be held Tuesday, March 28.

J. R. Cole has improved Main street between Ridgewood and the railroad by having several loads of marl placed on it.

Misses Elizabeth and Louise Mansuel, Cincinnati; Mrs. R. F. Strickland, Rockville, Ct.; Mrs. J. Breedlen, Miss Mattie Peck, Jefferson City, Mo.; A. W. and Miss Alice E. Perry, St. Paul, are guests of The Bennett.

A Poem for Today

ROBERT BURNS

By Fitz-Greene Halleck

HE kept his honesty and truth
His independent tongue and pen,
And moved in manhood as in youth,
Pride of his fellow men.

Strong sense, deep feeling, passions strong,
A life of turmoil and of love,
A love of right, a scorn of wrong,
Of coward and of slave;

A kind, true heart, a spirit high,
That could not fear and would not bow,
Were written in his manly eye
And on his manly brow.

Praise to the bard! his words are driven,
Like flower seeds by the fair winds sown,
Wherever, beneath the sun of heaven,
The birds of home have flown.

Praise to the man! A nation stood
Beside his coffin with wet eyes;
Her brave, her humblest, her good,
As when a loved one dies.

And still, as on the funeral day,
Men stand his cold earth-couch around,
With the same homage that we pay
To consecrated ground.

And consecrated ground it is,
The hut, the hallowed home of one
Who lives upon all memories,
Though with the buried gone.

Such graves as his are pilgrim-shrines,
Shrines to no code nor creed confined.
The Delphian cube, the Parthenon,
The Meccas of the mind.

Why All the Penel Streets?

Can you tell me why it is that in nearly every town of any size you are sure to find a Pearl street? There is reason in plenty for Main street, State, Front, River, Water, Church, Chapel, High, etc., but this so often repeated Pearl street is too much for me. If it were only here and there it might pass for a coincidence, but it is so general that I am inclined to think there must be some reason for it. Enough for the life of me I can't imagine what the reason may be. Though it may seem queer to you, I have special ground for wondering about the thing. I am not jealous of the man or woman or thing that may be the cause of it all, but whoever or whatever he, she or it may be I am anxious to find out. —Margaret Thompson in New York Times.

No Pleasure in It.

Mrs. Chase—Oh, I don't like to go to that store! It's so unsatisfactory to do your shopping there.

Mrs. Shopper—Why, they have everything there.

Mrs. Chase—That's just it. No matter what you ask for, they can suit you right off.—Philadelphia Press.

Very Queer.

"Well, well, that's a funny thing." "What is?"

"Miss Tweezy was an old maid before she married, and now that her husband is dead she has become a young widow."—Catholic Standard and Times.

As to Kit's Completion.

Maud—Have you seen Kit Garling-lours's wedding? It's nothing but an imitation on the face of it.

Irene—Well, so's her own skin.—Chicago Tribune.

It Sometimes Fails.

"There's nothing like perseverance. It wins out in the long run."

"Not always. Did you ever see a hen on a porcelain egg?"—Brooklyn Life.

Might Help Some.

"Is Clarence Apoleby the sort of person one would care to cultivate?"

"Well, a little cultivation wouldn't hurt him any."—Cleveland Leader.

Advice.

Throw your strength to the world, but beware how you betray your weakness, even to your dearest friend.—Paparus.

A New Roosevelt Anecdote.

A personal sketch of Governor La Follette contributed to Harper's Weekly by Earle Hooker Eaton contains a new and entertaining anecdote of President Roosevelt which Mr. Eaton quotes in the president's own words. Mr. Roosevelt, it seems, was present at a reception attended by Governor and Mrs. La Follette. The president and Mrs. La Follette were standing in one corner engaged in conversation and getting low enough. He was doing the bulk of the talking, and she was an attentive and unwavering listener.

"Suddenly I discovered," says the president, "that for at least five minutes I had been pouring low cream down the front of her handsome evening gown. She had known it all the time, but had cultivated it by not even the quiver of an eyelash or by the slightest change in the smiling interested expression upon her face. She had simply been too polite to interrupt me by word or look or move, no matter what happened to the gown."

A Record Saw.

What is declared by the Philadelphia Record to be the largest and heaviest cold pressed steel band saw ever made has just been turned out at the Disston works, Tacony. It is 26 feet long, 15 inches wide, .251 of an inch thick and weighs 1,471 pounds. By repeated rolling the thickness of the band was reduced from .276 to .251 of an inch. The saw is perfectly straight and is a marvel for uniformity of thickness. Bands up to 50 feet long and 14 inches wide are regularly made at the Tacony plant, but it is said that never before has a band of such length and weight been cold rolled at any shop in the world.

GOODALL TO BE INCORPORATED

Under the Name of Daytona Beach is the Desire of Many of Its Residents.

Pursuant to call, the citizens of Goodall met in the floating casino last night to discuss the advisability of incorporating the section now known as Goodall, under the name of Daytona Beach and define the lines which should mark the district to be incorporated.

A. S. Harmony, chairman of the previous meeting, presided and B. W. Craig was again secretary.

The minutes of the last meeting were read, in which were defined the boundary lines adopted at a previous meeting, which were: From Duke street on the north, to the north line of the Bottnagher property on the south, and from the Halifax river to the ocean. The minutes stated that these lines were unanimously adopted at the previous meeting.

Lamware Thompson objected to this statement and said that he had voted against incorporating south of Peninsula avenue, which divides the property of Capt. Oliver. He stated that while he was the only man present who had opposed the incorporation of that section, yet that he represented large property interests, of people opposed to incorporation, who were absent from the meeting, and he did not think it was wise at this time to force those property owners.

Richard Wilder and Wm. Roger also made speeches against incorporating the south end, where police and fire protection could not be given, yet for which they would be taxed.

Mr. Thompson moved to recommit the proposed boundary lines, but the chairman refused to consider the motion, on the ground that the matter had been definitely decided upon and had been advertised.

T. H. Keating read an article from the Halifax Journal in which it was stated that "The worst feature about

AN IMPORTANT TOUR ENDED.

The Governor, Accompanied by Prominent State Officials Finds The Waterways in Good Condition.

Gov. Napoleon B. Broward and party arrived in Jacksonville Thursday morning from an extended tour of investigation of the canals along the East Coast of Florida, and an inspection of the various waterways connecting the Everglades with the Atlantic ocean.

The trip from which the Governor and party returned was their second trip to the Everglade section within two weeks. They returned last week from a trip through the Glades from the west coast side, and started immediately down the East Coast. They have, therefore, seen the Everglades along both coasts, and have also traveled through the middle of the great area of sawgrass, which they declare contains some of the richest lands in the world for agricultural purposes.

More fully convinced than ever is everyone in the party that the whole of the Everglades can be reclaimed by a system of drainage canals, and also that the reclaiming of these lands will make Florida one of the richest States in the Union.

At the head of the Matanzas river they found a dredge at work cutting a canal toward the headwaters of the Halifax river. Driving across the intervening strip, which they estimated to be about seven miles wide, they found another large dredge at work cutting a canal toward the Matanzas river. The strip of seven miles is the only part of the entire trip that was not made by water.

All in the party were very favorably impressed by the progress being made on the Matanzas-Halifax canal.

They say that when this cut is completed there will be an inside route all the way from St. Augustine to Miami.

They found the Santa Lucia river to be a deep stream, there being at least ten feet of water at the point it comes out of the glades, and beyond the matter is that the postoffice department would hardly permit such a name for their postoffice, owing to the confusion with that of Daytona which would surely follow. Numerous instances of postoffice names more similar were cited by the speaker, some being Palm Beach and West Palm Beach, Tampa, Port Tampa and Port Tampa City, while any number of East and West cities were mentioned.

The circulation of the DAILY NEWS is steadily increasing and on Monday passed the 500 mark by a clear majority of 100. Monday's edition of the paper was exhausted fifteen minutes after the last form was off the press. 600 for a daily in a city the size of Daytona is a very creditable showing and is evidence that the public appreciate our efforts. It shall be our aim to build the circulation to a still higher figure and to accomplish this will make it better and better each day.

On motion, March 25th was selected as the date of election, the polling place to be at Keating's casino. E. L. Howard, J. C. Butler and W. P. Waldron were elected as inspectors, and S. P. Johnson as clerk.

All qualified voters present, with the exception of Mr. Thompson, strongly advocated the incorporation of the entire district as proposed in order to tax the large property holders there for the maintenance of the streets and roadways, but those persons opposed to being forced into incorporation strongly intimated that a legal fight would be the outcome if the measure becomes a law.

An Important Four Ended.

which it is not navigable. A canal cut across to Lake Okeechobee from the head of Santa Lucia would give a direct outlet for that lake to the Atlantic Ocean, and the members of the party believe, would accomplish great results in the way of drainage. They favor such a canal, cut 300 feet wide, and of sufficient depth for the navigation of stern wheel steamboats. Such a canal would give a direct water route from the Atlantic to the Gulf. By this route a boat could enter the Santa Lucia river, pass through the canal into Lake Okeechobee, thence through the canals connecting the lake with the Caloosahatchee river and down that river to Fort Myers, and on to Punta Rassa, on the Gulf coast.

The canal system is not to be confined to the Everglades, however, for the plans discussed include an inland water route from Jacksonville to Punta Rassa, on the Gulf coast. Such a project, broached some years ago, would have been hooted at, but it is believed to be feasible and practicable.

At the Opera House.

The Gagnon-Pollock Co. presented the "Two Orphans" at the Opera House last night to a large and appreciative audience.

Miss Pollock as Louise, the blind girl, and Mr. Gagnon, as Pierre Frochard, cripple, by their pathetic manner of acting the parts of these unfortunate people, brought tears to every woman's eye in the audience.

Harold Maclaurt appeared in two characters, Jacques Frochard and Chevalier De Vandey, which he assumed with his usual rare skill.

Miss Hanna also appeared in two parts, as the Count De Linieres and Marquis De Presles, both being impersonated with a manner natural to the born actor alone.

The costumes used in this play were elaborate and much finer than generally used in Daytona. It is to be regretted that the stage was too small for the expansive scenery to be used which the company brought with them.

A deer which had been shot was seen in Longboat on the streets yesterday. The owner evidently did not know that he was violating the law by killing or having in his possession a deer at this season of the year.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Austin will regret to learn of the death of their infant son, which occurred this morning.

Supreme Test.

She was a Wisconsin girl of more than the usual share of this world's goods who became engaged to the man from Maine, a civil engineer, whose business was in the far west. Compelled to separate soon after the engagement, 2,000 miles soon divided the two lovers. Business duties called the man away, but frequent letters helped to shorten the months of separation. Turning her attention to cooking, this girl of almost unlimited wealth soon proved her devotion to her absent lover by mastering the difficulties of cooking in anticipation of that happy time when she should have a home of her own. Triumphantly she wrote her lover, "I can make lemon pie, custard pie and Washington pie all myself." Then did this man from Maine and the land of orchards assert his loyalty to his home state most vigorously and back over the wires, 2,000 miles away, came this telegram, brief, but emphatic, "Try apple!"—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

Pepys' Furnace.

An electric resistance furnace was used by Pepys in 1825 for the cementation of iron. He took a piece of pure, soft iron and cut a slit along its length. The slit was filled with diamond dust, which was prevented from falling out by fine iron wire. The portion of the wire containing the dust was wrapped in mica. The wire thus charged was heated quickly to redness by the current from a battery. On opening the wire Pepys found that the diamond dust had disappeared and that around where it had been the wire had been converted to steel.—London Engineer.

Followed Her Instructions.

Mrs. N. was giving instructions to her new servant: "Before removing the soup plates, Mary, always ask each person if he or she would like any more."

"Very good, madam."

Next day Mary, respectfully bowing to one of the guests, inquired, "Would the gentleman like some more soup?"

"Yes, please."

An Odd Whist Deal.

A curious hand at whist was dealt at Grimsby, England, recently. The cards were shuffled and dealt in the usual way, but when the players looked at their hands they found that one of them had twelve spades, another eleven hearts, the third man twelve diamonds and the fourth eleven clubs. Spades were trumps.

The circulation of the DAILY NEWS is steadily increasing and on Monday passed the 500 mark by a clear majority of 100. Monday's edition of the paper was exhausted fifteen minutes after the last form was off the press. 600 for a daily in a city the size of Daytona is a very creditable showing and is evidence that the public appreciate our efforts. It shall be our aim to build the circulation to a still higher figure and to accomplish this will make it better and better each day.

the matter is that the postoffice department would hardly permit such a name for their postoffice, owing to the confusion with that of Daytona which would surely follow." Numerous instances of postoffice names more similar were cited by the speaker, some being Palm Beach and West Palm Beach, Tampa, Port Tampa and Port Tampa City, while any number of East and West cities were mentioned.

On motion, March 25th was selected as the date of election, the polling place to be at Keating's casino. E. L. Howard, J. C. Butler and W. P. Waldron wers elected as inspectors, and S. P. Johnson as clerk.

All qualified voters present, with the exception of Mr. Thompson, strongly advocated the incorporation of the entire district as proposed in order to tax the large property holders there for the maintenance of the streets and roadways, but those persons opposed to being forced into incorporation strongly intimated that a legal fight would be the outcome if the measure becomes a law.

An Important Tour Ended.

which it is not navigable. A canal cut across to Lake Okeechobee, from the head of Santa Lucia, would give a direct outlet for that lake to the Atlantic Ocean, and, the members of the party believe, would accomplish great results in the way of drainage. They favor such a canal, cut 200 feet wide, and of sufficient depth for the navigation of stern-wheel steamboats. Such a canal would give a direct water route from the Atlantic to the Gulf. By this route a boat could enter the Santa Lucia river, pass through the canal into Lake Okeechobee, thence through the canals connecting the lake with the Caloosahatche river and down that river to Fort Myers, and on to Punta Rassa, on the Gulf coast.

The canal system is not to be confined to the Everglades, however, for the plans discussed include an inland water route from Jacksonville to Punta Rassa, on the Gulf coast. Such a project, broached some years ago, would have been hooted at, but it is believed to be feasable and practicable.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its narrowest entrance and midway between the mouths of Tomoka Bay and the outlet of Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29° north, and 81° west from Greenwich, and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty, among the cities of the South. Its site is said by travelers as high, low and rolling, while it was reported by the early explorers as a dismal, unhealthy swamp, and unsafe for human habitation. The inch of to-day, will be the foot of to-morrow, and so on until the present. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lordly live and water oaks and palmettos, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the silvery spanish moss, that overarch street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palmettos, showy barred magnolias, fragrant bays and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the angel-geric climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions.

The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are from 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half mile of open, beautiful water viewing upon its eastern side, where the soft waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health-giving breezes from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well-graded, shelled and shelled roads and streets, rendering it the

and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long-distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages

that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, lyes and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those seeking homes in the South, and ranking second only to health-fulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, good public and private schools, stores, banks, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric lights for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, City Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

which is derived from numerous flowing wells, of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and this depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona

proper is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,200 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

Daytona Beach

lies one mile east of the town. It is approached by three good bridges over the river and well-graded avenues, and is the principal summer resort south of St. Augustine. It has more tourists during the summer than all other places south of that city combined, and is also becoming a favorite winter resort. The beach is wide, firm and smooth, by many considered the finest in the world, and the surf bathing is safe and excellent summer and winter. People who have tried Northern and Western summer resorts declare that there are none so perfect in comfort as Daytona beach.

Automobile Race Meet.

The Florida East Coast Automobile Association conducts an annual race meet on the beach, which has now a universal reputation as the greatest automobile race course in the world. The Daytona-Ormond Beach is hard as macadam, and its ideal stretch of thirty or more miles without a break makes it the natural racing ground for America.

At low tide the beach is level for 200 feet and neither carriage wheel, bicycle or pedestrian can make a hardly visible imprint on the smooth and well-packed sand. It is no uncommon sight to see sail-rigged bicycles speeding with the velocity of the wind before a stiff breeze along the smooth beach, thus affording the most exhilarating sport known to man. Besides these, miles of hard-shelled, palm fringed boulevards bring the lovers of the wheel and vehicles into direct touch with the mainland over the broad bridges which span the splendid Halifax River.

The beach from the sandy bluffs to the breeze point at eddville, measures about 500 feet, and the average depth of the surf measures about two feet. A continuous gentle swell rolls in from the ocean from one to two feet in depth under normal conditions, making the beach an attractive and absolutely safe place for surf-bathing. Here the infant as well as the greybearded veteran of many summers, can safely enjoy the luxury of a sea bath throughout the larger part of the year, while the strong and expert swimmer, can venture out further to test his strength and skill in battling with the inexhaustible powers of the salshy ocean.

The Peninsula

lying between river and ocean is one half mile wide, and is being rapidly improved, and there are now fine cottages and several good hotels, an opera house, two ocean piers, beach pavilion and a large casino.

A Remarkable Feature

at Daytona has been the yearly improvement in the style and value of the buildings that are being erected for homes. Men of capital of the North and West have become awakened to its advantages for winter residences, and valuable lots are being purchased and costly houses, beautiful in design and finish, are being erected, and beautiful homes, the pride of wealth and culture are multiplying.

Seabreeze (City Beautiful) and Goodall are settlements on the Ocean side of the peninsula across the Halifax River from Daytona.

At the foot of Ocean Boulevard, Seabreeze, a pier reaches one feet across the beach into the seething surf of the ocean. This pier is a favorite resort of those who delight in the sport of fishing. The surf here abounds in trout, pompano, yellowtail, cavalle, whiting, drum, sheepshead and many other varieties of edible fish. During the fall season the famous sea bass affords royal sport, and it has been no uncommon occurrence to land a thoroughbred of this gamey fish in an afternoon. Individuals of them ranging from fifteen to thirty-five pounds in weight. Not only does the ocean offer this splendid sport but the Halifax River, only half a mile back of the ocean, is equally famous for its fine fishing, and the varieties that abound in the ocean are present in the river.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its fairest expanse and midway between its source at Rulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29, seventy four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the cities of the South. Its site is [illegible] that is known as high hammock land that was crowned by [illegible] most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees the town of to-day, with its [illegible] cottages and well-graded [illegible] and streets. The result is a trail along the wide avenues that intersect the town are boldly live and water oaks and hickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palmettos, glossy-leaved magnolias, fragrant bays and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the ampelopsis climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions.

The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health-giving breezes from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well-graded, marled and shelled roads and streets, rendering it the

and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long-distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages

that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, trees and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those securing homes in the South, and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, good public and private schools, stores, hotels, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric lights for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, Lily Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

which is derived from numerous flowing wells, of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and this depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona

proper is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

Daytona Beach

lies one mile east of the town. It is approached by three good bridges over the river and well-graded avenues, and is the principal summer resort south of St. Augustine. It has more tourists during the summer than all other places south of that city combined, and is also becoming a favorite winter resort. The beach is wide, firm and smooth, by many considered the finest in the world, and the surf bathing is safe and excellent summer and winter. People who have tried Northern and Western summer resorts declare that there are none so perfect in comfort as Daytona beach.

Automobile Race Meet.

The Florida East Coast Automobile Association conducts an annual race meet on the beach, which has now a universal reputation as the greatest automobile race course in the world. The Daytona-Ormond Beach is hard as macadam, and an ideal stretch of thirty or more miles without a break makes it the natural racing ground for America.

At low tide the beach is bared for 300 feet and neither carriage wheel, bicycle or pedestrian can make a hardly visible imprint on the smooth and well-packed sand. It is no uncommon sight to see sail-rigged bicycles speeding with the velocity of the wind before a stiff breeze along the smooth beach, thus affording the most exhilarating sport known to man. Besides these, miles of hard-shelled, palm-fringed boulevards bring the lovers of the wheel and vehicles into direct touch with the mainland over the broad bridges which span the splendid Halifax River.

The beach from the sandy bluffs to the lowest point at ebbtide, measures about 500 feet, and the average depth of the surf measures about two feet. A continuous gentle swell rolls in from the ocean from one to two feet in depth under normal conditions, making the beach an attractive and absolutely safe place for surf-bathing. Here the infant as well as the grey-haired veteran of many summers, can safely enjoy the luxury of a sea bath throughout the larger part of the year, while the strong and expert swimmer, can venture out further to test his strength and skill in battling with the inexhaustible powers of the mighty ocean.

The Peninsula

lying between river and ocean is one-half mile wide, and is being rapidly improved, and there are many fine cottages and several good hotels, an opera house, two ocean piers, beach pavilion and a large casino.

A Remarkable Feature

at Daytona has been the yearly improvement in the style and value of the buildings that are being erected for homes. Men of capital of the North and West have become awakened to its advantages for winter residences, and valuable lots are being purchased and costly houses, beautiful in design and finish, are being erected, and beautiful homes, the abodes of wealth and culture are multiplying.

Seabreeze (City Beautiful) and Goodall are settlements on the Ocean side of the peninsula across the Halifax River from Daytona.

At the foot of Ocean Boulevard, Seabreeze, a pier reaches 600 feet across the beach into the swelling surf of the ocean. This pier is a favorite resort of those who delight in the sport of fishing. The surf here abounds in trout, pompano, yellowtail, cavalle, whiting, drum, sheepshead and many other varieties of edible fish. During the fall season the famous sea bass affords royal sport, and it has been no uncommon occurrence to land a thousand pounds of this gamey fish in an afternoon, individuals of them ranging from fifteen to thirty-five pounds in weight.
